

The tale of the Hunch back

Once upon a time, there was a tailor in the city of Basron One day, when he was at work, he saw a hunchback sitting in front of his shop. The hunch back was singing and playing his flute. The tailor liked the hunch back very much. He decided to take the hunch back to his house to make happy his wife. They went to the tailor's house. When they arrived, diuuer was ready the tailor's wife had cooked a very big fish. Unfortunatly, while the hunch back. Was eating the fish, a big bone got stuck in his throat. The tailor and his wife tried to help him, but it was useless. The hunch back died immediately.

The tailor and his wife were frightened. They knew that they would be punished for what they had done. Therefore, they decided to make a plane to get rid of the hunch back's body. There was a doctor who lived near their house. The tailor thought it would be a good idea to put the blame on the doctor. So they carried the hunch back's body to the doctor's house. They knocked of the door and waited for a short time. The doctor's servant opened the door and asked them what they wanted.

The tailor said, Tell your master that we have brought a very sick man for him to cure. Then the tailor gave the servant some money and added. And this is the money for his service. As soon as the servant went upstairs to give the message to the doctor. The tailor and his wife carried the dead body quickly offer her. Then left it at the top of the stairs and ran home as fast as they could. The doctor ordered his servant to get a light. Then he went toward the stairs.

There he nearly fell over the body of the hunch back. The doctor did not know what it was, so he gave it such on angry kick that sent it to the bottom of the stairs. When the servant brought the light, he realized what he had done.

“ My God” , he cried. I have killed the sick man they brought me to cure. They will send me to prison as a murderer. He carried the dead body into his wife's room. She was frightened. Why did you kill this poor hunch back? She asked. How could you commit this crime? I didn't kill him, replied the doctor. It happened just by accident. Now let's find a way to get rid of this dead body.
